3 Local Men Ask Nomination

Tuesday, Sept. 9, will be a day of decision for three Andover residents, seeking nomination to seats in the General Court.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in all six precincts, according to Town Clerk George Winslow.

Seeking their party's nomination for representative in the Fifth Essex District are incumbent Arthur Williams, 127 Haverhill st. and Mason F. Arnold, 105 Elm st., a newcomer to partisan politics. Frank S. Giles of Methuen and William Longworth, also of Methuen, seek re-nomination by Republican voters. Also in the contest for the G.O.P. nomination is Philip Sutcliffe of No. Andover. The voters will nominate three, who will run in the November election.

The third Andover resident for whom Sept. 9 is a big day is John Adams, 15 Stratford rd. He seeks nomination by the Republicans for a seat in the State Senate, which he once held. Others in this contest are Charles H. Anthony of

Schools Open Sept. 8 - 3,162 Enrolled

Andover public schools will open their doors to the largest number of children in the history of the town Monday, Sept. 8.

According to Edward I. Erickson, superintendent of schools, the estimated enrollment will be 3,162. This will exceed the record enrollment of 2,905 of September, 1957, by 157 children.

Although Mr. Erickson explained that registration of children new to the school system was largely completed in the spring and early summer, parents who either have yet to register children or who are new to the community may enroll children at the individual schools during the period of Sept. 3 through Sept. 5.

A luncheon at the high school cafeteria Sept. 3, for teaching and administrative personnel will precede the general activities in preparation for the official opening of the schools.

Estimated enrollment for the individual schools, as announced by Mr. Erickson, is as follows: High School, 525; Junior High School, 680; Central Elementary School (including children housed in the Jackson and Stowe buildings), 700; Shawsheen School, 403; South Elementary School, 454; and West Elementary School, 400.

In addition to the increase in enrollment, other changes will include the opening of the new South Elementary School and personnel changes for the school year 1958-59.

Andover & Its Residents Characterized In Novel

By Miriam Putnam

An author's background should not perhaps be given undue prominence in discussing a work of fiction, but in the case of Mary Mian, author of the soon-to-be-published novel "Young Men See Visions", we cannot really overlook the fact that she was born and educated in Andover, is the daughter of Mary Ripley Shipman and Dr. Frank R. Shipman, a former minister of the South Church and that many of her adult years have been spent in France.

One of the difficulties that a reader encounters in attempting to evaluate this novel is how to distinguish between fact and fiction. There is little doubt that the Wendover of the novel is really Andover and, except for the South Church which becomes the North Church in the novel, there has been no attempt to change place names. There is, therefore, so much in the book that is factual and identifiable that there is the danger that the book may be judged too harshly. It is rather a weakness of the book that one so consistently, if

5,106 In School Here By Middle Of September

By mid-September, an estimated 5,106 youngsters will be attending public and private schools in Andover.

A survey conducted this week among all the schools indicates increased enrollments in all but two.

St. Augustine's parochial school will start the year Sept. 8 with 540 youngsters. The enrollment is about 25 higher than 1957.

Sacred Heart School in Shawsheen will begin its sessions Sept. 8, with boarding students arriving Sept. 7. Already enrolled are 150 boarding students and 50 day students, for a total of 200. This is about the same number of students as last year.

Phillips Academy will begin sessions Sept. 15, with 780 boys in attendance. Last year's total was 759, indicating an increase of at least 21.

Abbot Academy, opening Sept. 16, will have 224 girls enrolled - the same as last year.

Pike School, starting its classes for kindergarten through fifth grade Sept. 10 and for upper grades a day later, has an enrollment of 206, as of Monday. This is an increase of six students.

Public school enrollment stands at 3,162, the highest in the history of the town.

Officials at all schools emphasized this week that some additional students may be enrolled before opening day.

when he takes facts and transmutes them.

The book has a kind of Cranford quality, a less proper Cranford, and is in large measure a charming and delightful evocation of what seems, at this distance, to have been a simpler, uncomplicated and unhurried time - that is until one looks below the surface when one discovers that while problems were largely personal and community centered, they were problems none the less.
The author gently lures us on with this attractive recreation of the late 1890's and yet one is conscious finally that in spite of the surface charm, the author is telling us that it was a rather smug town, this Wendover, with many self-righteous people, with limited experience and vision. Mark

Deming (Dr. Shipman?) called it a "stiff-necked, brimstone little town".

The scope of the book is limited;
the author paints on a very small canvas. It is the story of Mark Deming, newly appointed minister of the "North" Church, who really believed that people could be lead to live a better life. He was a saintly man and the people were not ready for him. When he seemed to spend too much time on the town's "outcasts", people were tolerant at first; they said it was because of his youth and inexperience and that he would learn better as he grew older. When, however, he shared with them an account of a vision, a kind of turning point in his life, events moved rapidly. People in 19th century Wendover just did not see visions. The climax of the story comes when several of his parishioners rise to his defense.

The love story is the subordinate theme but none the less charming that it is briefly told.
The author has drawn Mary Chatfield (Mary Ripley?) with loving care. She saw what Mark Deming was attempting to do; she was drawn almost unwilling to this unworldly young man.

Is Mrs. Mian a little hard on most of her characters? How far do they represent real people? In some ways the picture that she has drawn seems to have been painted too much in blacks and whites; surely there were gray tones, too, in this 19th century community.

It seems a little odd that in a community of this type - Wendover, too, had a "Fem-Sem" and a theological seminary - that there should not have been more made in the novel of the intellectual life of the town. Possibly the author would consider this criticism unjustified by the limitations she herself has placed on the scope of her book.

She writes with caustic wit and pleasant humor and delineates her characters with sure touches so that they become real people, if, indeed, they are not drawn from actual people. Anabel Harris, a friend of the Chatfields, is described as "Botticelli stiffened by whalebone".

Mrs. Mian writes well, her figures of speech are well-turned;
she is economical with words
unlike one of her characters, Dr.
Barker, the "blathering" clergyman who "would not let a good word stand on its own, but sent them out in squads".

This is a small point; yet this reader felt a bit of irritation at the author's use, rather condescendingly, of two colloquialisms, seemingly uncalled for - Scotland "Deestrick" and Memorial Day "percesshun". Here the author definitely obtrudes and makes judgments.

Whatever Andover readers may feel about the book, no one will disagree with Mrs. Chatfield's statement that "Wendover in June was perfection hovering close to earth".

It will be interesting to see what readers outside of Andover and New England will feel about the book; their appraisal will be both fairer and more objective.

Would the book have been more successful if Mrs. Mian had developed it as a series of biographical sketches, essays or reminiences? If it were to be a novel, this reader feels that Mrs. Mian should have taken her material and more completely transformed it.

It is safe to assume that the book will find readers - many of them in Andover!

MARY MIAN'S PERSONAL BACKGROUND

Mary Mian, whose newest book "Young Men See Visions" will be published early next month, is a resident of Santa Fe, N. M., where she, her husband and three daughters journeyed from Nyack, N. Y.

In 1932, she married Aristide Mian, a French Sculptor, and they lived in Montmartre, France until 1939. They were caught here by the start of World War II.

Mrs. Mian has written for the New Yorker and previously published books include "My Country-In-Law",
"The Merry Miracle" and a
"Treasury of French Tales", which she translated from Henri Pourrat.

A native of Andover, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs.
Frank Shipman, she attended
Abbot Academy, Whitman
College in Walla Walla, Wash.;
Radcliffe College, the New York School of Social Work and the Noyes School of Rhythm.

Andover Women Help Fair Show

The exciting flower arrangement section of the Topsfield Fair flower show, opening next Sunday, Aug. 31, through Sept. 6, promises to have the most varied and colorful exhibits since introduction of this department some 15 years ago.

General theme of the arrangement division is "Nature's Bounty" with the adult division, open to Essex County garden clubs and their members, having four classes - "Harvest Supper," comprising table settings; "Calico Coloring," flower designs in a calico setting; "Birds and Berries," general interpretation of class theme; "Autumn Glow," fall flower designs, and "Nature's Paint Brush," designs using wild flowers.

There is wide enthusiasm among county children in the second division of the arrangements competition. Youngsters six to eight years, in one group, and nine to 12, in a second group, will seek blue ribbons for floral arrangements based on a "Pie Plate Nursery Rhyme" theme and, in a second class, "Flowers in a Teacup" theme.

Assisting Mrs. Robert G. Richards on the committee are Mrs. William S. Ballard of Topsfield; Mrs. William J. Breed, Mrs. Gordon W. Roaf and Mrs. William H. Riley of Marblehead; Mrs. Edwin Bramley, Mrs. Ernest A. Wilkinson and Mrs. Henry Van Zandt of Andover.

Mrs. Herrick Colby returned recently to her home on Shawsheen rd., after spending a month with relatives in Ocala, Fla.

ESTATE TO MRS. GREW

Mrs. James H. Grew of Abbot House, 167 Main st., inherits the bulk of the estate of her mother, the late Mrs. Alma Clayburgh, concert singer, philanthropist and patron of the musical arts.

This became known with the filing of Mrs. Clayburgh's will for probate in Surrogate's Court in New York. She died Aug. 4 at the age of 76.

Under terms of the will Mrs. Grew inherits the entire estate following $62,500 in specific bequests. These go to grandchildren, Alma, Edward Sturges and James H. Grew Jr. of the Andover address, who receive the income from $20,000 trust funds until age 30 when they receive the principal outright. James H. Grew, son-in-law, also of Andover, is left $2,500.

Mrs. Clayburgh, who retired in 1931, was a dramatic soprano who performed often on the concert stage here. Following her retirement, she devoted a substantial part of her income to further the careers of aspiring musicians, among them George Gershwin.

She was also active in the

New York Zoological Society, the Camp Fire Girls, and the American Women's Association of which she was a founder.

Size of the estate is unknown, pending an appraisal.

Jr. Red Cross Delegates Here

Summer calm on the campus of Phillips Academy ended last Sunday as 135 teen-agers attending the Junior Red Cross Leadership Training Center arrived for a week of unique study.

Judy Dimlich, Jonathan Langdell, Thomas Nedelka and William Simpson represented Andover Jr. Red Cross. They were chosen, according to Barbara Loomer, executive secretary of the local Chapter, for their leadership ability and performance.

Representing 50 local chapters of the American Red Cross in seven eastern seaboard states, the youths will enjoy a full program of training for future service with the Junior Red Cross.

Junior Red Cross Leadership Training Centers, held throughout the country each summer, are designed to develop the qualities of community leadership and responsibility through service with the Red Cross. Instruction at the center will be focused on the many ways that youth can serve.

Besides a strenuous daily classroom schedule, the delegates will participate in a wide variety of sports and recreation, including a talent show and formal banquet. Also included on the program is a demonstration of the first aid and water safety techniques taught by the American Red Cross.

Organized in 1917 with the active support of President Woodrow Wilson, the JRC has grown from an initial membership of eight million to its present strength of 22 million members in 66,114 schools across the country. The largest youth organization of its kind in the world, the JRC is perhaps best known for its promotion of international understanding among school children. Through exchange of gift boxes, student art, and school chests, the Junior Red Cross has greatly increased friendship among world youth.

MALE CHOIR STARTS 31st YEAR

A member of the New England Federation of Glee Clubs, the Choir finished second this year in the annual competition. In doing so, it compiled 559 points out of a possible 600.

The group has won first place eight times and has placed second 14 times during the competitions.

Four active Choir members have been members since its origination. They are director J. Everett Collins, James Christie, David Forbes and Fred Cheever. Many others have been with the Choir for many years, indicating how the love of singing can keep a group together. Any man in the community who wishes to become a member will be welcomed at the rehearsal Sept. 9, according to newly re-elected President William Calder.

The Choir will present one late-summer program, appearing at Wentworth-By-The-Sea, with Ruby Slavin as soloist.

Continue Cases Of Two Men

The cases of two men, accused by Andover police of being involved in the theft of a lawnmower from the home of Charles D. Thompson of Hidden Field, were continued Monday until tomorrow morning in Lawrence District Court.

Michael Romano, 36, 184 10th st., Lowell, pleaded guilty to the theft of the lawnmower and George W. Cameron, 29, 160 Myrtle st., Lawrence, pleaded guilty to receiving the mower as stolen property.

At the request of Police Chief David Nicoll, Special Justice William H. Daly continued the case until Friday. Chief Nicoll said two other persons are involved in the case.

Bail was set at $1,000 for Romano and $200 for Cameron.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE STARTS SEPT. 2

Football Coach Robert B. McIntyre has scheduled the first Andover High workout at 9:30 a.m. Sept. 2.

All high schoolers interested in trying out must report at that time, in the locker room at the High School. Equipment and lockers will be issued then by Kenneth McKiniry.

Double sessions will be held all next week, except for Saturday, when only a morning workout is scheduled. Calisthenics and other conditioning exercises will be stressed. Coach McIntyre stressed that all boys trying out for the team must attend all the practice sessions next week. He also reminded the candidates that insurance money must be collected, before equipment can be issued. Mr. McIntyre will handle the collection.

Miss Folley Will Enter College

Miss Carol Folley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Folley of Essex st., is at home enjoying a two weeks' vacation before entering the University of Massachusetts.

Upon leaving the Monadnock Community Hospital, Peterborough, N. H., where she has been employed as a laboratory technician, Miss Folley was entertained at a dinner by the hospital staff and was presented a corsage of money.

Training For Reservists

FIRST AID — Donald Dunn, supervisor at Poms's Pond and an active U.S. Naval Reserve member, has been giving instruction to members of the Naval Reserve unit located in Lawrence. In this photo, he's putting some of the reservists through their paces.

Directed by Donald Dunn, the Red Cross swimming instructors at Poms Pond have started a new service for members of the local U. S. Naval Reserve.

John Lucey, Ralph Arabian, Glen Williams and Mr. Dunn have spent the past two Sunday mornings qualifying 28 men as second and third class Navy swimmers.

Mr. Dunn, who is the local representative of the Commandant of the First Naval District attached to the U. S. Naval Reserve and Marine Corps training center at West Parish rd., Lawrence, said that the program for Navy reservists was the only one now given in the state. He plans to continue it on a larger scale next year. Local men who qualified include Samuel Wright, Carl Holt and Charles McIntosh.

The Poms Pond lifeguards were trained at the national Red Cross Aquatic School on Cape Cod and their tuition paid by the Andover Chapter, American Red Cross.

Local Woman Was Delegate

Mrs. Herbert R. Folley of Essex st., senior vice president of the State Department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and delegate from Andover V.F.W. Auxiliary 2128, spent last week in New York City attending the National V.F.W. Convention.

During the joint opening session a $50,000 check was presented to the men's organization from the ladies Auxiliary for the new memorial building which is being built in Washington, D. C. The names of many of the Andover Auxiliary members are entered in a Gold Book to be on display at this building for contributing to this fund.

Tonight, the first committee meeting for the entertaining of the national V.F.W. president, Mrs. Belle Myers of Kansas, will meet at the V.F.W. Department Office in Boston. Mrs. Folley is chairman of this committee and will have a selected group of Department officers to work with her.

Miss Grew To Return Sept. 3

Miss Alma Grew, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Grew of Phillips Academy, is due to arrive in New York on the Nieuw Amsterdam Sept. 3, after a summer of study and guided travel in France under the auspices of Northampton School for Girls, Northampton, and Ecole Champlain in Vermont.

The students reached their headquarters at Le Montcel July 4 and interspersed their study under French professors with visits to Paris, Versailles, the Riviera, Cote d'Azur, and the Dior Opening. The last week was spent in Holland with a visit to the Brussels Fair. Miss Grew has been a student at Abbot Academy.

FOUGHT FIRE IN OWN HOME

Andover firefighter John Murnane, on duty at the Ballardvale fire station, went out Sunday at 11:52 p.m. to battle a fire, which much to his dismay, was in his own home, two doors up from the fire station.

Box 28, Ballardvale fire station, was sounded for the blaze at 294 Andover st. The fire was confined to a sofa and little damage resulted.

Fire fighters were notified of the blaze by Mrs. Murnane, who called the station.

The trouble market is easy and the stock sells at low rates.

agreement between the company and Mrs. Arthur White, along whose land the trees are located.

Atty. Arthur Williams represented Mrs. White, explaining to the Board that his client owned many acres of land in the section which would possibly be developed. One of the objections had been that 13,000 volt lines might be dangerous if the wires came down into what could be a settled area.

Williams agreed to further discuss the subject with his client and men from the Electric Co., who explained that the wires would be dead if they fell. The representatives of the firm also said that service to the area would be better with the new lines in place, as domestic service is taken from the new power line through a transformer.

If the line was installed on the opposite side of the street, as Atty. Williams suggested, the company's spokesmen felt that property owners there might have similar feelings. This would result in having the BPW become arbitrators, it was suggested.

George Bergstrom, the company's tree expert and Eric Rothwell told the small gathering that the new high-power lines will give far better service to the area than it now gets. The line will come into Andover from Tewksbury and eventually go out along So. Main st. to the By-Pass.

One of the problems associated with this type of line, they related, is in its relationship to trees. A branch blowing into the line and out again could cause temporary failures, with company workmen then spending hours trying to find out whether some more permanent danger existed. Thus, trees will be trimmed to avoid contact with the lines. And any trees that would be crippled and disfigured by trimming are to be taken down.

In addition to the 14 on Dascomb rd., the plan calls for cutting three on Lovejoy rd. and nine on Clark rd. All the trees on Lovejoy rd. would be replaced at a later date, with five replacements along Clark rd. Mr. Bergstrom said the firm has a policy of replacing trees that are presently healthy. But any that are diseased when taken down, or which constitute a traffic hazard, are not replaced, as this is considered to be of considerable assistance to the town.

Two more sections of the proposed line are to be given the Board of Public Works as the company gets to them. Tree hearings will be held on all trees to be felled under those plans.

3 LOCAL MEN ON BALLOT

Haverhill, E. Edward Talbot of Amesbury and Daniel M. Thornton of Haverhill. The incumbent, Charles S. Marston 3rd, did not seek re-election.

Two Democrats will be automatically endorsed in that party's primary vote for Representative in the Fifth Essex District. They are Walter J. Sliva of Lawrence and Thomas E. Watman of Methuen. They will run against the three winners of the Republican primary, in the November election.

For the State Senate, three Democrats seek the chance to run against the G.O.P. nominee. They are John J. Cahill of No. Andover, Aldo F. Fassio of Haverhill and James P. Rurak, also of Haverhill.

The Senate district includes Andover, No. Andover, Haverhill, Amesbury and several small towns in the lower Merrimack Valley.

The Fifth Essex District, including Andover, is composed of Methuen, except precinct three; No. Andover, and Ward One of Lawrence.

County Interest

Several county offices are being sharply contested, in both the Republican and Democratic primaries.

Three Democrats are asking support in the fight for nomination as governor's councillor. They include Mayor John J. Buckley of Lawrence, Timothy J. Burke of Lynn and William G. Hennessey of Lynn.

In the Republican primary, Councillor Augustus G. Means of Essex is unopposed.

A three-cornered scrap for nomination to the clerk of courts office is being waged by the Democrats. Philip J. Hennessey of Peabody, the incumbent, seeks re-nomination. Also running are Daniel J. Costello of Lawrence and John J. Costello of No. Andover.

The Republicans have two candidates for this spot, Harold Morley Jr. of No. Andover and David R. Nagle of Saugus.

The contest for nomination for county commissioner is also tight, with three Democrats and two Republicans listed on the ballots.

Edward H. Cahill of Lynn, Anthony A. Spirito of Lynn and John J. Willis of No. Andover are the Democratic hopefuls.

Incumbent Arthur A. Thompson of Methuen is challenged by William E. Sexton of Lynn in the Republican primary.

Two county positions, district attorney and register of deeds in the Essex Northern District, are not contested.

District Atty. Hugh A. Gregg of Methuen seeks re-nomination by the Republicans, while John P.S. Burke of Lawrence is the only Democratic candidate.

G. Hudson Driver of Lawrence, incumbent register of deeds, seeks the G.O.P. nomination and Mary Donahue Sullivan of Lawrence is the single Democratic candidate for nomination.

National Election

Republican and Democratic candidates for Congress also appear on the primary ballots.

Senator John F. Kennedy of Boston is unopposed in the Democratic primary, while Vincent J. Celeste of Boston is the only Republican candidate. These two will fight it out in November, after receiving automatic primary endorsement.

In the Fifth Congressional District, Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Lowell seeks re-nomination by Republicans. Her November opponent will be William H. Sullivan of Lowell, who is unopposed in the Democratic primary.

Little Interest

Voting for state-wide offices is expected to develop little interest.

Only two contests, both in the Democratic primary, appear on the ballot.

For attorney general, the Democratic Convention endorsed Edward J. McCormack Jr. of Boston, who is opposed by Edicott Peabody of Cambridge.

State Treasurer John F. Kennedy of Canton is opposed by the convention-endorsed candidate, William J. Shaughnessy of Woburn.

In all other state-wide campaigns, both Republican and Democratic, there is a single candidate, endorsed by the party's convention.

Starting from the top of the ballot, we find:

Governor, Foster Furcolo, incumbent Democrat; and Attorney General George Fingold, challenging Republican.

Lieutenant governor, Robert F. Murphy, Democratic incumbent, and Elmer C. Nelson of Mendon, Republican.

State secretary, Democrat Edward J. Cronin of Peabody, the incumbent and Marion Curran Boch of Norwood, Republican.

John E. Yerxa is the single Republican candidate seeking nomination for the state treasurer's post. The Democratic competition in this office has been reported earlier in this story.

Thomas J. Buckley of Boston, state auditor, is the only Democrat seeking that nomination. He will be challenged, in November, by Thomas H. Adams of Springfield, Republican.

The attorney general's contest among Democrats has already been described. Opposing the successful Democrat in November will be Christian A. Herter Jr. of Newton.

POLLING PLACES

Six precinct polling places will be open here, for the use of voters of both parties. As in all Massachusetts communities, a voter registered in a party may have only the ballot for that party. An unenrolled voter may ask for the ballot of his or her choice, thus automatically registering as a member of that party. It is possible to have that designation removed, after the primary, by asking the election officials to do so.

The polling places here, open from 7-7, are: Precinct One, Central Fire Station; Precinct Two, Square and Compass Club on Elm st.; Precinct Three, Sacred Heart School in Shawsheen; Precinct Four, Andover Grange on Lowell st., West Andover; Precinct Five, Ballardvale Fire Station; and Precinct Six, Peabody House, on Phillips st.

Mr. and Mrs. Shields Bishop and sons, John, James and Keith of Schenectady, N. Y. are spending the week and holiday weekend at Moody Pines on Tewksbury st., Ballardvale.

Hearings Held On Variance Petitions

Five hearings were held by the Zoning Board of Appeals last week, with the board taking the cases under advisement. One petition, submitted by Suburban Household Enterprises, Inc., had opposition from abutters who voiced objection to granting the variance allowing the construction of a building on River rd. with the resultant frontage less than that required by the zoning by-law.

Several of the abutters stated that the area has poor drainage at present and would be worse.

The board requested representatives of the firm to submit a plot plan showing where the house would be situated. No decision on the matter would be given until the plot plan is filed, Chairman Alfred Fuller stated.

There was no objection presented to the application of Sarkis Colombosian for a variance which would allow the subdivision of a lot of land on Argilla rd. with resultant lot lines not in accordance with the zoning by-law.

The application of Michael and Carmela Mararian for a variance to allow the building of a single dwelling on a lot of land in an industrial area with an acreage less than the zoning by-law requirements, was given a hearing with no one presenting any objection.

Also heard was the application of Chester D. Abbott, 3 Andover st., for permission to convert a single family at that address to three apartments.

John Haykal, 15 William st., petitioned for the granting of a variance which would allow the building of an addition to his home with resultant lot lines less than required by the by-laws.

In addition to Chairman Fuller, Secretary Edward P. Hall and Atty. Joseph C. Bacigalupo were present at the hearings.

Walworth who died Aug. 9, drew up the testament Dec. 3, 1951, and nominated the First National Bank of Boston and a son, William M. Walworth of East Lansing, Mich., as co-executors. No estimate of the value of the estate was listed.

The residue of the property was placed in trust for Mrs. Walworth. Upon her death, the will stated, the son is to have the principal of the trust fund outright.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS Have A Safe Weekend

The last major holiday of the summer season — Labor Day — appears destined to be one of the most expensive, in terms of human lives, that the nation has known.

All predictions are gloomy — forecasting hundreds of deaths resulting from automobile accidents primarily.

The weekend exodus starts tomorrow. How many of you will be a statistic by the holiday's end?

We hope none — but if our wishes are fulfilled, it will be the result of your careful driving, your attention to and full concentration on highway safety. There is so little to be said on this subject anymore. After all the warnings and instructions from national, state and local safety agencies before and during other major holiday weekends, the statistics indicate that too few paid attention. The death rate from auto accidents just keeps climbing.

Let's bear in mind, as we start out for an enjoyable weekend, that everyone else on the highway has the same objective. No one deliberately looks for accidents and death — thus it is as much your responsibility as anyone else's to drive carefully, to keep this a happy weekend instead of one that ends in tragedy.

Watch The Blanks

The September 9 Primary will be interesting, in large part, on the basis of the blanks counted against the names of major office-holders.

Apart from two contests, attorney general and state treasurer in the Democratic primary, all state officers are unopposed. And they will get substantial complimentary votes from the party faithful who go to the polls.

But always, when there is no opposition, it is possible to get an indication of voter sentiment from the number of blanks. We recall the year that Governor Dever, running unopposed in the primary, found himself in real political hot water. Thousands of blanks were counted, where voters of his own party would not cast even a complimentary ballot. The election in November proved the accuracy of the primary indication — he lost.

Thus we may get some indication of the voters' feelings when the ballots are counted the night of Sept. 9.

Other than this, however, there is little interest in the primary itself. There are a few local and county contests that have excited enthusiasm among the candidates' friends. But without any dramatic contest on the state or national level, it appears that the vote will be light.

We wish it were possible to predict otherwise — for voting in a primary is a responsibility we should not shrug off. Over the years, however, by far the majority of our citizens have been content to let someone else pick the candidates, occasionally to their everlasting regret come November. We daresay it will be the same this year.

Need More Tax Dollars

Evidence of the real cost of education — including the building program in addition to normal year-to-year expenses — was given recently when the Assessors announced the tax rate.

Of the total $26, $15.04 resulted from school expenditures. This is approximately 58 percent of the total tax dollars.

Everyone should realize that a large portion of this belongs in the bonded indebtedness category — payments on the High School and South School in particular.

Even so — without disputing for a minute the need for these structures — isn't it obvious that educational requirements are becoming our number one expense? And shouldn't we logically look forward to expanding educational costs, as the town grows?

How, many persons will ask, can the taxpayers hope to keep up with this expansion? What happens if, next year, the percentage is even higher, with more dollars going towards education than is the case in 1958?

This certainly is a weighty question. But there is one possible answer — broaden the tax base. Instead of depending on the homeowner for most of our tax dollars, let's add some industrial tax dollars.

It appears to be a good time for our municipal Industrial and Development Commission to make a major push towards attracting light industry. There are many advantages to the town from having new industry locate here and there are certainly many favorable reasons why the industry should come.

This would be a good year to see some progress in developing the industrial areas set aside for the purpose.

Scenic vacations give some people a lot of pleasures just in saying they have been there when they get back.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — August, 1908

The fire department held its monthly practice Wednesday evening.

The bell of the old Free Church on Railroad st. was moved to the new structure on Elm st. this week.

Supt. of Schools Hutchinson commenced his duties here Tuesday and has taken up residence in the house built by George Stiles on Summer st.

The Rev. and Mrs. Markham W. Stackpole have moved from Abbot st. to the house recently vacated by Dr. C. O. Day on Main st.

The Rev. Frederick Green and his family sailed on the Romanic Wednesday, bound for Constantinople.

Mrs. William Clemons and family spent last Thursday at Old Orchard Beach.

25 Years Ago — August, 1933

Three men paid traffic fines and another had his case continued in district court Tuesday morning after being stopped for various traffic violations in Andover.

The gypsy bands that have been living in camps on the Reading road have been ordered to vacate. The order was issued after many complaints were received from residents of the area and citizens throughout the town. Board of Health officials declared the camps a health menace. The bands were reported to be heading for Lawrence, where officials have already taken steps to see that the gypsy groups do not live in stores and tenements without adequate facilities.

Two more applicants have filed for the postmastership. They are Dr. Thomas J. Kyle and Joseph C. Murphy. There are now seven applications before the Civil may be used in the library); Outdoor Sports Manual, Popular Mechanics Manual (220 helpful hints for the fisherman, hunter, camper, trapper, archer and boatman); Canoeing, Handel (Practical information on handling a canoe in every type of water); Skiing on Water, Andresen (Fundamentals, slalom, jumping, trick riding); Complete Picnic Book, Shallcross (Over 200 picnic games and contests, with a chapter on menus, directions for outdoor meals); Traveling By Car, Lane (A family planning guide to better vacations); Thoughts On Small Boat Racing, Ogilvie; Outdoor Hazards, Hood (A guide to out-of-doors safety for campers, hikers, fisherman and travellers in the United States); Nature Is Your Guide, Gatty (How to find your way on land and sea by observing nature); The Handbook of Auto Camping and Motorist's Guide to Public Campgrounds, Wells.

First Days At Schools

A few helpful books and pamphlets would include: Preparing Your Child For School, Department of Elementary School Principals; Home Play For the Pre-school Child, Johnson; Teaching the Kindergarten Child, Lambert; If You Live With Little Children, Kauffman; Elementary School Objectives, Kearney; How To Help Your Child In School, Frank; The Fives and Sixes Go To School, Sheehy; Children Can Work Independently, Association For Childhood Education; Life and Ways of the Seven-To-Eight Year Olds, Biber.

A Few Of The New

The Undiscovered Self, Jung (about the individual seemingly lost in today's world); Lost Statesman, Werth (about Mendel-France who may yet be France's great leader); St. Dignan's Bones, Callender (A small Irish village is thrown into confusion when two small children report seeing a vision of St. Brigit, the village patron saint); Speaking of Pianists, Chasins (Witty, informal talk about famous pianists by a man who has himself been pianist, composer, teacher); Native Genius in Anonymous Architecture, Moholy-Nagy (Beautiful buildings, churches, homes, barns, mills, etc. by people whom necessity forced to be architects).

BLOMQUIST TOOK PART IN PROGRAM

Service Commission.

The High School will have 40 more pupils this year than last, requiring the use of another room and an extra teacher.

The final Playground activity of the season will be held this afternoon and evening, with the Lion's Club sponsoring the annual field day. There will be activities that should interest nearly everyone.

10 Years Ago — August, 1948

Three Lawrence youths were arrested shortly after midnight Wednesday after they emerged, police allege, from an unoccupied home on Andover st. in Ballardvale. Five officers surrounded the dwelling, waiting for the boys to come out.

The largest school enrollment in 10 years is anticipated when school begins Sept. 8. School officials estimate a top enrollment of 1,500.

New traffic regulations bearing on parking meters will become effective next Monday morning. Police will then begin enforcing the regulations, although Chief George Dane has said the first week will be considered a period of grace, as motorists learn how to use the 194 meters installed in the business area.

Spirited competition marked the numerous events at the annual water carnival Saturday, followed by an interesting demonstration Sunday afternoon. Appropriate prizes were given the winners of the events.

Monday is the first day for registering under the selective service act. Young men who were born after Aug. 30, 1922 will register Monday, while other age groups will be taken at varied times.

STERN WARNING ON HOLIDAY DRIVING

In a last minute warning to motorists, His Excellency Governor Foster Furcolo, honorary chairman, Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee and Registrar Clement A. Riley, chairman, again call public attention to the fact that all enforcement officials will work as a team in a drastic traffic accident prevention program this Labor Day weekend.

During the 78-hour holiday period of 1957, 11 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents. This year, in an attempt to reduce this tragic death toll, more than 6,000 state Metropolitan District Commission, and community police will work with Registry inspectors to remove from our highways unreasonable drivers.

Registrar Riley has declared a continued "No Fix" policy. Drinking drivers will be locked up and lose their licenses. Speeders and flagrant violators of traffic laws and rules of the road will lose their driving privileges.

Registrar Riley says, "We need your cooperation in this all-out effort to keep you and your family accident-free this holiday weekend".

SCHOOLS OPENING
SEPTEMBER 8

growing school enrollment, the opening of the South School, and changes necessitated because of retirements and resignations. In total, 29 new personnel will join the school system this year. Of this number, 16 will replace those who left the system at the close of the school year in June and 13 will fill new positions which result from the growth of the school system.

A breakdown of these personnel changes shows a total of 13 new teachers in the elementary schools, seven of whom are required mainly because of increase in enrollment. In the junior and senior high schools, nine of the 14 teachers new to the staff will fill positions made vacant by reasons of termination of service of personnel last June. The remaining five positions, three in the Junior High School and two in the High School, will represent positions new to these schools this year. Two other positions, teacher of French in the elementary schools and assistant to the superintendent, round out the total of 29.

Personnel new to the system together with their assignment is listed here, by school:

Central Elementary School, Miss Lesley J. Westfall, kindergarten; Shawsheen School, Mrs. Darell W. Holland, kindergarten and Mrs. Lila C. Zale, grade 4;

South Elementary School, Mrs. Theodore C. Boudreau and Miss Joan L. Bushold, grade 5; Mrs. Irene M. FitzGerald, grade 2; Mrs. Charles A. Goglia Jr., kindergarten; Mrs. Arthur W. Goodall, grade 3; Miss Ruth G. Nelson, grade 6; Miss Mary L. Sullivan, grade 1; and Miss Sally A. Young, grade 4;

West Elementary School, Miss Carol J. Forsythe, kindergarten and Miss Barbara T. Puzio, grade 5;

Junior High School, Mrs. Helen Enman, homemaking; David J. Hartnett, social studies; John B. Hughes, social studies; Benjamin K. Johnson, mathematics; Miss Alice P. McMahon, physical education; Frederick J. Steeves, physical education; Richard F. Sterndale, mathematics, science; and Robert J. Wamsley, industrial arts;

Andover High School, Mrs. Robert C. Hannigan, English, French; J. Clifford Schwab, mathematics; Louis J. Theriault, business; Miss Priscilla Trowbridge, English; and Arnold G. Zins, mathematics;

Junior and Senior High Schools, Edward P. Grigoli, music.

Others will include Miss Emta Brady as teacher of French in the elementary schools and Dr. John P. Gainey as assistant to the superintendent.

Since the school system this year will join with nine other communities in eastern Massachusetts that participate in the teacher training program at the Harvard University Graduate School of Education, three teaching interns will also join the Andover schools this year. Interns who will be associated with the Andover schools during the year will include Ernest V. Seasholes and Peter A. Soderbergh, both of whom will work in the area of social studies in the Junior High School and David C. Wood, who will work in science in the High School.

The teacher training program in which these interns are enrolled is designed primarily for liberal arts college graduates who seek to prepare for teaching in secondary schools. The program is administered by a board at the University representing the faculties of Arts and Sciences, Education, and the Radcliffe Graduates

School and is conducted in co-operation with the participating school system.

Other personnel changes in the school system, as announced by Mr. Erickson, include the following re-assignments: Miss Josephine Broadbent from part-time to full-time speech therapist; Mrs. Joseph Cardella, teacher of grade six at the Central School to the Junior High School staff to teach social studies; Mrs. James A. Deyo, teacher of grade one at the Central School, to grade two at the Shawsheen school; Miss Theresa W. Gaffney, teacher of grade five at the West school, to become remedial reading teacher for all the elementary schools; Mrs. Glenn W. Inman, teacher of grade two at the Shawsheen school, to teacher of grade two at the South School; Miss Joan C. Sullivan, teacher of grade five in the Shawsheen School, to teacher of grade six at the South School; and Mrs. Robert Domingue to teach grade four at the South School instead of Central School.

Bus schedules for the transportation of students will be published in the next issue of the TOWNSMAN.

Still Investigating
$1,500 Burglary

Police were continuing their investigation this week of a $1,500 theft at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Wolfson on Argilla rd.

The theft occurred Tuesday, Aug. 19, sometime between 11:30 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. A pane of glass was broken in a rear door, allowing a latch to be lifted and entry gained.

Sgt. Robert Deyermund was assigned to the investigation.

The police report said two diamond rings, a man's diamond ring, a Leica camera, a Bell and Howell projector and a movie screen were taken by the thief.

Police Chief David Nicoll said Tuesday that nothing new had developed on the case, although investigation continues.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murnane and family of Andover st., Ballardvale, enjoyed the month of August at Provincetown

JUNIOR HIGH
REGISTRATION

The Andover Junior High School office is open daily from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. for the transaction of school business.

Parents whose children will enter grades 7, 8 or 9, and who did not attend an Andover public school last year, have been requested to register them on or before Sept. 5. The first day of school will be Monday, Sept. 8.

All teachers at the school will participate in a work shop program Sept. 3, 4 and 5.

ATTENDING MEETING

Selectmen-Assessor and Mrs. Stafford A. Lindsay and Bernard Magane, assessors engineer, are attending the Assessors eminar in Amherst this week. The conference began Tuesday and runs through Thursday. Mr. Magane will be a discussion leader during the three day session.

RELEASED AFTER MEDICAL TREATMENT

A Lawrence teen-ager, Miss Marie Garofolo, 16, 8 Chestnut st., Lawrence, was shaken up

Tuesday night when the car she was driving went out of control on Abbot st. Police said the car climbed an embankment and tipped over, shortly after 6 p.m. She was released after treatment.

marriage. She was wearing a white taffeta gown with a fitted princess bodice fashioned with a Sabrina neckline. Her bouffant skirt featured lace inserts in both the front and sides that formed a bustle back that was caught with a bow and cascaded in a chapel train. Her fingertip veiling was caught to a white bridal headpiece and she carried a cascade of white roses.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Jack Spyridakis of Manchester, N. H., was the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Stella Moth of Lawrence, Mrs. Charles Liponis of Andover and Miss Linda Mathews of Auburn, Me.

They wore dark green taffeta gowns with fitted bodices and short sleeves that featured bouffant skirts with harem hemlines and back bustle effects. They carried white colonial bouquets with matching green center arrangements.

Charles Liponis of Andover was the best man and the ushers were Richard Mathews of Newton, Robert Gigis of Andover, brother of the bride, and Warren DeMartin of Vernon, Conn.

The couple greeted their guests at a reception held at the Colonial Room of the Yankee Doodle. On return from a wedding trip to Raudrey, Isle, Me., the couple will make their home in Watertown.

The bride was graduated from Pynchard High School and the McIntosh Business School. Mr. Mathews is a graduate of Edward Little High School in Maine and Springfield College.

HESSE - THOMPSON

At a seven o'clock candlelight ceremony Saturday evening, Aug. 23, in Christ Church, Miss Gail A. Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Thompson, 14 Arundel st., became the bride of Robert L. Hesse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hesse.

In a setting of white gladioli and delphinium, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The Rev. John S. Moses officiated.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of white tissue taffeta with a bateau neckline and fitted bodice applied with Alencon lace and pearls. The full skirt flared into a chapel length train. A cap of matching lace and pearls held her tiered veil of French illusion in place and she carried a crescent bouquet of white gladioli.

As matron of honor, the bride's sister, Mrs. Arthur P. Anderson Jr. of Northford, Conn., was gowned in mint green taffeta with matching headband and veil and she carried a crescent bouquet of yellow gladioli.

The bridesmaids, Miss Betsy Sparks of Baltimore, Md. and Miss Margaret Fullerton of New Rochelle, N. Y., wore identical gowns of jade taffeta with matching headbands and veils and they carried crescent bouquets of yellow gladioli.

Richard Talbot of Holliston was best man and the ushers were Arthur P. Anderson Jr. of Northford, Conn. Raeburn B. Hathaway Jr. of Andover, Carl Smith of Winchester and William Moran of Melrose.

The bride was graduated this year from Mount Holyoke College. The bridegroom graduated in June from Colby College where he was a member of Zeta Psi fraternity. He is presently located at Newport, R. I. in Officers Candidate School.

2205 Registered At Playgrounds

Annually expanding use of the town's playgrounds was indicated this week, as final registrations were tallied by Supervisor George Snyder.

His summer-end statistics indicated a total registration of 2,205 young people. Last year, 2,001 registered on the playgrounds and the year before 1,937 registered.

By playgrounds, this is how the registration broke down: Central 742; Ballardvale, 646; Shawshen, 354; Indian Ridge, 287 and West Center, 175.

Snyder tallied the year-end registrations as the playgrounds closed last weekend.

Two of the playgrounds - West Center and Central - held final events last week.

A doughnut-eating contest was hungrily received at Central, by scores of youngsters and a small dog, who had more than his share of the food.

First prizes in the four-six age group went to Judy Vogel and Beth Batchelor; in the seven-eight group, to Jim Buck and Kevin Winters; 9-10 ages, Linda MacLeish and Jean Buck; and in the 11-12 age group, to Billy Chicoine.

At West Center, a series of relay races closed out the season. In the frisbee throwing contest, in which the youngsters hurled a plastic flying saucer, Joseph Santarlasci was first in the six-nine age group; Jerry Stewart in the 10-12 group and James White, over 12 age group.

Want Town Aid To Cover Brook

Work on a small section of Rogers Brook immediately behind the stores on the west side of Main st. will be discussed tomorrow morning at 9 in the town hall.

Board of Public Works members, Selectmen and members of the Board of Trade will talk over the possibility of straightening a section of the brook and covering it, to allow off-street parking in the area.

Members of the Trade Board asked town officials, including the Finance Committee, to approve town expenditures on this section of the brook. The merchants indicated their willingness to raise enough money for levelling and hot-topping the area.

At a special meeting Monday night, Board of Trade President George Lister described his group's wish to create parking behind the stores. A parking lot belonging to the Merrimack Valley National Bank will be made available as an extension of the area.

Town Counsel Vincent Stulgis said the town may legally spend money appropriated by town meeting for off-street parking to repair the brook section, under these circumstances.

Three persons own the property in the rear of the stores - W. R. Hill, Samuel Glazerman and Mrs. David Burns - which would become part of the parking area. All have agreed, it was explained, to make the land available for parking. Although no decision was reached, there was discussion of the town leasing the area for five years, thus taking over maintenance and snow removal; or having the merchants form a corporation to handle the area.

Cost Estimate

The merchants committee presented figures indicating that repairs to the brook in the immediate area would cost under $10,000. They advanced the argument that this is a project the town plans to undertake as part of the over-all brook reconstruction and that it is, thus, a legitimate expenditure.

Although the estimated cost of straightening and covering the brook was placed at under $10,000, there was considerable feeling that the work must conform to a plan drawn by Clinton Goodwin of Haverhill. The estimates were not based on this plan, it was disclosed. It was agreed that Goodwin should be invited to take part in any discussion regarding the brook job, in order that all the work be done according to previous engineering studies.

The merchants committee expressed its firm belief that parking in the proposed area should be free - with sufficient supervision to prevent abuses by all-day parkers. Town counsel told the group that the town may use its discretion in this regard, leaving some areas unmetered.

The bank parking area, which Executive Vice President Wallace M. Haseltine said would be available, is not now metered. By taking down a fence, he said the area would become part of the over-all parking lot.

Commended For Safety Record

Employees of the Marland Mills were signally honored last week, for having completed 1,500,000 man-hours without a disabling injury. The record was made over a period between May 23, 1957 and Aug. 20 of this year.

Walter L. Goddard, general manager of the Northern Division of the J. P. Stevens Co., Inc., presented a National Safety Council award to David Markert, superintendent of the local plant. He also expressed the company's appreciation to all employees for their part in achieving the record. Pen and pencil sets were given to all employees.

REGISTRATION FOR CENTRAL YOUNGSTERS

Registration of children who are to enter the Central Elementary and Stowe School will take place in the Central Elementary School office Sept. 2, 3, 4 and 5, from 9:30 to 11:30. This registration is for children who are new to the system and who reside in the Central Elementary School District.

Parents of kindergarten children in the Central District are requested to call the school office if there is any question about morning or afternoon assignments.

Residence Question
Argued In Court

Whether Fred H. Greenwood Jr., 21, lives on Folly Hill rd. in Salisbury or in Seabrook, N. H., had some bearing on a case brought by police in Lawrence District court Monday.

Patrolman William Tammany testified that the defendant's license reads Salisbury, but that the defendant claims he has been living in Seabrook, over the line on the same street.

On the basis that he lives in Salisbury, where his father's home is located, police brought charges of operating an unregistered auto and an uninsured auto, he being fined $100 on the insurance complaint and the second complaint being filed. The officer stated that queries with Salisbury police brought the information that the boy's home is in Salisbury.

However, the defendant, who appealed the findings and the fine, said that he has been living with a friend named Cameron farther down the same street in Seabrook, N. H. This was verified by the defendant's father, who said his son was living in New York and since May has been living in Seabrook.

On his appeal, the registration complaint was taken from the file and he was fined $10. Surety of $100 was supplied for his appearance in Superior court.

estimate merchants committee figures indicating that to the brook in the immediate area would cost under $100,000.

They advanced the idea that this is a project that should be undertaken as part of an all brook reconstruction program, it is, thus, a legitimate project.

ough the estimated cost of cleaning and covering the brook was placed at under $100,000, there was considerable discussion that the work must conform to the standards drawn by Clinton Good-Haverhill. The estimates were not based on this plan, it was closed. It was agreed that the town should be invited to take any discussion regarding the brook job, in order that all the work according to previous studies.

merchants committee expressed its firm belief that parking in the proposed area should be with sufficient supervision to prevent abuses by all-day parking. Town counsel told the town that the town may use its authority in this regard, leaving areas unmetered.

Wants Water Bills Paid In Collector's Office

The official committee to study collection of all money owed the town has recommended that water bills, amounting to some $115,000 annually, be collected by the tax collector.

In a report to the Selectmen, the committee also suggested coordination of the town clerical force, following the appointment of a town manager. This step would probably not eliminate any personnel, but might avoid the necessity of hiring additional help, the report said.

Also recommended during 1959 is the collection of money now received by the town clerk, police department, fire department, health department, sealer of weights and measures and the wire inspector. The report commented that the procedure now used in the school department seems satisfactory, but it might be reviewed later. Some $20,000 yearly is collected by that department, the report stated.

Office Location

A joint meeting early this week, involving the Selectmen, members of the study committee, Tax Collector James Christie and BPW Chairman Alex Henderson, studied the problem of collecting water bills by the tax collector.

Among many factors, the need for additional office space by the collector, plus additional clerical help, were brought out.

The committee's report had suggested that an employee of the water department might be transferred to the collector, with subsequent employment of a part-time clerk for the BPW.

BPW's Viewpoint

Mr. Henderson told his Board Monday night that the tax collector could not simply collect the money. Rather, he said the BPW would have to "commit" the bills to the collector, as is done by other departments. This would necessitate doing the bookkeeping and clerical work in the BPW offices, Henderson stated.

It was also brought out that a re-alignment of office space would be necessary. This involves, it is explained, the proposed renovations on the second floor of the town hall, which would provide added space for town boards. The collector presently occupies one office on the street level, with sufficient space for the collector and a clerk.

Asked Few Questions

Water Department Supt. Donald Bassett told the Board that a representative of the study committee had visited the office for about 10 minutes and asked very few questions. "He knew what he wanted to do before he came", Bassett stated.

The Board took no action on the proposal, pending solution of the space problems for the collector.

The official study committee includes C. B. Whiteside, chairman; E. F. Rohmer, secretary; Harry Axelrod, John E. Gilcreast and William W. Rhoads.

Their report to the Selectmen reads:

"The Committee appointed by you to continue the study to effect the By-Law adopted by the March 1958 town meeting, which approved the acceptance of Chapter 41, Section 38a of the General Laws, whereby the collector of taxes shall collect, under the title of town collector, all accounts due the town from all sources, submit the following recommendations:

"As a first step to be taken as soon as possible, all water bills now collected by the Board of Public Works on the second floor should be transferred to the town collector on the first floor. The amount involved is some $115,000 per year. This will necessitate providing additional space for the town collector, and one clerk might well be transferred from the office of the Board of Public Works to the town collector's office. This might require one part time clerk for the Board of Public Works office, possibly from some other office in the town house.

"In effecting this change, there should be close cooperation between the town collector and the town treasurer to see that all money is handled in accordance with the duties of the treasurer as it is the latter's responsibility 'to receive and take charge of all money belonging to the town'. We also understand that any changes in procedure should first be approved by the State Bureau of Accounts. This should not be difficult as at least one town in this area now has a very well coordinated system of collections. In fact, that town proposes to consolidate the offices of town collector and town treasurer, effecting a saving in administration of some $7,500 per year. We believe they also plan the further co-ordination of clerical forces by removal of partitions in their town hall.

"It is our considered judgment that succeeding steps should be taken, after you have determined a definite plan for the relocation of town offices. Also, when appointed in 1959, the town manager will require office space and clerical assistance. At that time, consideration should be given to co-ordinating the clerical forces of all departments, not necessarily eliminating clerical personnel but avoiding the necessity of employing additional force.

"The further steps to be taken in 1959 should include the collection of monies due the town by the following: town clerk, police department, fire department, health department, sealer of weights and measures and wire inspector. The School Department seems to be satisfactory but might be reviewed in 1959 - amount involved some $20,000 per year.

"If you have any questions or desire further information we shall be glad to confer with you."

Rhoads Heads U.F. Division

United Fund General Campaign Chairlady Mrs. B. Allen Rowland has announced that William W. Rhoads will be the chairman of the Andover Special Gifts Division for this fall's campaign.

Last year, under Mr. Rhoads competent leadership, this division showed a 5 percent increase over the previous years results.

Chairman Rhoads feels that the response to the United Fund Campaign this year will be more generous than ever before, as all the solicitors will be armed with statistical information indicating the number of Andover citizens served by the 27 Member Agencies of the United Fund.

Already agreeing to serve in the capacity of team captains are the following: Stafford A. Lindsay, David M. Thompson, Dr. Douglas M. Dunbar, Harold A. Rutter and John C. Young.
